CHARITY SHOW

WOW--- What a Great Show and Sale ! We were all worried when the Mall moved us from the North Court in front of Foley's to the South Court corridor in front of Palais Royal. But we were worried about nothing, as everyone going to the food court had to pass by our sale area.

There still tallying up all the proceeds but we sold over $4600.00---can you believe?

We thank everyone who donated merchandise, their time, hard work and salesmanship for making this years show such a BIG Success.

Some of the members also donated items of theirs that did not sell to a charitable group which was having their own sale.

OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting was held at Hardwood Lumber Co.. We would like to thank them for the use of their facility, it really comes in handy--as its very hard to find a large enough building to hold all of the members that attend. If all our members showed up at once we'd be in big trouble.

At the ninth hour the person who was to present a program on commercial woodturning backed out.

Bill Sallans had to scramble to find a program. Luckily we have such vast knowledge among our membership that he was able to find a program from our membership.

Don Richardson's program was on "How to use a Computer to Design a Project--Planning a Project with a computer or just Planning a Project in general.

Don had a nice handout for us to follow.

If you use a computer and CAD package(computer aided design) it simplifies the pen and drawing paper portion of design. But you still have to do the planning stages first:

- 1.) What do you want your project to hold or what is its main function?
- 2.) Will you need electrical boxes or lights?

3.) Should it be movable(one piece or will it need casters) ?

4.) What type of material should it be made out of ?

5.) How much will it cost or How much do I want to spend?

These are just a few questions you must ask yourself before you ever start.

Before you run to the shop and start cutting--You should figure out what type of joints that will affect the different lengths.

Remember its better to measure twice and cut once---or you might be making a lot of trips to the lumber yard.

Whether you use a computer or pencil and paper--Planning is one of the most important aspects of Woodworking.

Thanks Don--for a very interesting program.

SHOW AND TELL

Steve Procter had photos of cabinets he's making for a customer in the traditional style. Steve also had some blocks, the old fashion style childrens blocks that he made of drop offs from his mahogany rocking horses.

He had a large box full and asked if any members would like to sand and finish some, as he had many more---Bill Hochmuth and Bill Sallans both finished a box full and every one of these blocks sold at the charity show(like Hot cakes).

So save your drops and you might have a project for next year.

Wayne Kennedy showed some Gum Ball machines made on a router with mason jars to hold the gum balls.

Chuck Maxwell had a spaghetti measure made of oak. He made some xmas candle holders (tree with candle) He made the brass candle inserts from rigid copper tubing, flared on a plumbers flaring tool. The plans are in Wood's Weekend Working Projects.
